"I recommend Prime Outsourcing as a reliable source of effective, quality and friendly staffing for both casual and long term IT and website help. I hired a casual staff member for 6 weeks and during this time found that quality of work to be high, that the staff was friendly, helpful and aimed to please, and that the price was affordable. Prime Outsourcing was able to help me solve a number of website related problems at a much cheaper price than I could have elsewhere and I will use them again when there is further need. They earned my approval."

Case Studies

An owner of a US-based company wants to provide free and paid online services to a broad range of clients, one of his goals is to come up with an online cloud storage system that has the largest virtual memory capacity to be developed, giving users virtually unlimited memory which was thought to be impossible. With one of the Senior Web Developers of Prime Outsourcing, the cloud storage website was soon made available to the public. Our developer was also able to integrate a payment mechanism through PayPal to allow other users to upgrade their free account to a paid account for faster service.
